

Karen R. Smith, PT, DPT, NCS, CWS, WCC, FACCWS, C/NDT, CSRS, C-MLD

Karen is a physical therapist and tenured Assistant Professor in the Department of Physical Therapy at Tennessee State University (TSU). She has 36 years of experience as a physical therapist in multiple clinical settings and currently sees patients at the pro bono TSU Tiger Community Rehabilitation Clinic. Her teaching, clinical focus, and research interests are advanced wound management, lymphatics, neurologic PT, prosthetics, and ethics. She has worked in wound management since 1986. She has also taught biophysical agent courses. She is a Board-Certified Neurologic Clinical Specialist (APTA), a Certified Wound Specialist (ABWM), Wound Care Certified (NAWCCB), and a Fellow of The American College of Clinical Wound Specialists. Karen is Certified in the Neurodevelopmental Treatment Approach (NDTA) and is a Certified Stroke Rehabilitation Specialist (NSA). She is an Advanced Credentialed Clinical Instructor with the APTA. She is a Vanderbilt grant faculty member for the Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental Disabilities program. She published a book chapter on vascular disorders, articles on a variety of topics, and presented at conferences. Karen is active in the APTA-TN and served as the Nashville District Chair 2016-2023 and has been a delegate to the APTA House of Delegates. She is active in university, professional, and community service. She is a Specialization Academy of Content Experts item writer and case report reviewer in wound management for the American Board of Physical Therapy Specialists and has been an item writer for the National Physical Therapy Exam (NTPE) for the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy. She is a consultant to the Tennessee Board of Physical Therapy.